Steel Truck Men Reject Strike End

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking steel haulers in Western Pennsylvania have rejected a compromise proposal to end their walkout, now in its third month.

It was the first reported rejection of the proposal worked out by governors' representatives of seven states.

Strikers in Cleveland, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y., have accepted the pact. The National Steel Carriers Association and an independent group of trucking firms also have approved it. The votes of strikers in all

Pryor Says Johnson May Not Run

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — U.S. Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., says he is not sure President Johnson will run for reelection. Pryor made the statement in a television interview. He said Johnson was definitely in political trouble in Arkansas.

Pryor also said the expense of fighting the war in Vietnam was hurting Arkansas.

"Until the war is ended, many of the programs for South Arkansas, including the $15 million restoration of Lake Chicot at Lake Village, may have to wait," Pryor said.

states are being tabulated at Gary, Ind., and will be released late today by William Kusley, the trucker who started the walkout.

Man Killed in Pulaski Car Wreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents in Arkansas claimed the life of one person during the weekend period which ended at Sunday midnight.

Robert L. McCray, 20, of Pine Bluff, was killed and three other persons injured Saturday in a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of U.S. 65 and a Pulaski County road, just south of Little Rock.

Officers said McCray was a passenger in a car driven by Paul Freeman, 19, of Little Rock. Freeman was hospitalized at Little Rock. Ronnie Brown, 18, of Little Rock, another passenger in the car was treated and released.

45 Search Planes Don't Find Melton

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Maj. Joel Wall of the Civil Air Patrol said Sunday that more than 45 aircraft logged more than 310 hours in the air Sunday in the search for the missing plane piloted by Marvin Melton, 65, of Jonesboro.

Wall said that at least 13 CAP planes would continue the search today.

three at a time is too restrictive and results in more pilot and airplane losses," he said.

"Obviously the most effective, most remunerative targets in North Vietnam were not struck," he said.

He was the final witness before the panel, which previously recommended increased and more effective use of available air power against North Vietnam.

In other heavily censored testimony released today, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, said the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended two years ago "as heavy a blow as possible" against important military targets in North Vietnam.

"This view was not supported," he testified. "Therefore we supported the gradual approach that has been used since then."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commandant of the Marine Corps, testified he advocated "more effective bombing and I am also advocating more bombing if that is necessary."

"I have advocated the rapid and heavy application of air power to targets in North Vietnam as well as in South Vietnam, wherever they might be found," Greene said.

When the subcommittee issued its recommendations Aug. 31 it said the top generals favored more bombing.

Both ground force generals disagreed with earlier testimony by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who said even the Joint Chiefs admitted federal funds into nearly every congressional district for reclamation, flood control, river and harbor projects is now in conference committee. Earlier attempts in the House and Senate to trim it 5 per cent were soundly defeated.

Rejection of the two attempts to cut back or hold the line on spending in Congress itself came as House members moved toward adoption of a directive that President Johnson cut expenditures an estimated $6 billion to $8 billion in the current fiscal year.

ties couldn't prevent the rally against the "U.S. dirty war in Vietnam."

—A Quiet Election: About 72.9 per cent of South Vietnam's 5.8 million registered voters turned out to choose from among the 1,200 candidates who campaigned for the 137 seats in a new House of Representatives. There were relatively few Viet Cong terrorist incidents. First returns showed a wide variety of candidates with early leads.

—Overseas Protests: Six water-cannon trucks were used by West Berlin police to hose down a crowd of 1,000 students and end a weekend of demonstrations aimed against the American presence in Vietnam. In a pitched battle in London, police drove about 3,000 protesters from the grounds of the U.S. Embassy. Police arrested 47 persons.

—Support for the Troops: Thousands of persons in the New York City area paraded over the weekend in support of the troops fighting in Vietnam. The marches were peaceful. Some 60,000 marched in Newark, N.J., and about 100,000 persons took part in demonstrations in several New York City boroughs.

—Air Raid Testimony: Maj. Gen. Gilbert Myers, former commander of the 7th Air Force, has testified to a Senate committee target restrictions in North Vietnam have cost the U.S. needless losses in pilots and planes. In other testimony, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, said the nation's top military leaders recommended two years ago that all targets be struck "as heavy a blow as possible." This view, he said, was rejected in favoring graduate escalation.

—World War III: Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, says the Communists opened World War III 20 years ago and have used subversion, revolution and direct attacks to carry it forward. Vietnam, he said, may prove to be the decisive battle of this war.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

THOSE UNCHAPERONED WEEKENDS
Dear Helen:

Our daughter is 21, putting herself through college. She writes casually about spending the evening in a boy's apartment, and, even worse, going off for a water skiing weekend with him and two other young couples.

I tell her she'll ruin her reputation, and she says I'm old-fashioned, that nothing goes on she would be ashamed of. She says almost everyone goes on boy-girl weekends. If you know and trust the boy, it's okay.

Can this be so? Should we insist she come home from college?

—AGHAST
Dear Aghast:

Yes, this can be so; and no, don't "insist" when you can't enforce. Your daughter is 21, earning her own way and, therefore, out of your command area. For you, all systems are "Let go!"

If you've raised her well, she won't disappoint you. — H.

Dear Helen:

Our niece is almost 18, doesn't have a job and is living at home. She thinks it's perfectly all right to go off on overnight trips with boys she scarcely knows. She and a girl friend have been on five weekend trips in the last two months, all with different boys. Her folks are ashamed to face their friends.

Is this proper for decent girls?

— AUNT

Dear Aunt:

I don't think you could properly call these girls "decent." When a 17-year-old girl goes weekending with boys she scarcely knows — and changes partners every week — she'll get the Tramp Stamp, even though (just possibly) she doesn't deserve it.

Her folks should remind their daughter that she is still a dependent minor, they're in command, and all systems are "NO!" — H.

Dear Helen:

If marriage is a contract, why not make it businesslike? I'm 27 and figure on settling down before long, but I'm not going to jump into this thing blind. I know a guy whose wife had to have a complete set of dentures six months after she hooked him. She KNEW! she was just waiting for a sucker.

Before I marry, my prospective wife will sign a paper giving her a full bill of health, with doctor's and dentist's signatures affixed. She will also promise that in the event of a divorce, she won't ask alimony. And she'll have plenty of clothes for one year before she walks down the aisle with me! She'll also have all her charge accounts and time payments paid up, and receipted bills to prove it. Only then will I give her a ring. — BATCH.

Dear Batch:

Only then will she give YOU the gate!

Happy batching. — H.

Dear Helen:

My Mary and I had an argument. She ups and moves and I can't find her. We have been going together for two and one-half years and were to be married in September. I love her so much I'm going crazy. How can I find her. — JOE

Dear Joe:

Surely Mary left a forwarding address. Send a registered letter to her at her former address and make it good! — H.

METHODIST KINDERGARTEN HAS FIELD TRIP

Friday, October 20, the children of Methodist Kindergarten made a study field trip to Fair Park. This was to culminate a science unit of study on seeds, and each child collected specimens of the seeds of trees native to this section. The children also enjoyed a period of play on the playground. Mothers who assisted in transporting and caring for the children were: Mrs. Dale Flowers, Mrs. Austin Hutson, Mrs. Bruce Duke, and Mrs. Bill Haire.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Antique pink flowers were in the home of Mrs. M. M. McCloughan on Oct. 20 when she entertained her Friday Bridge Club. In addition to the club members, other guests were Mrs. Marie C. Hendrix, Mrs. Herbert Burns, and Mrs. W. A. Mudgett. When scores were tallied at the two tables, Mrs. Hendrix and Mrs. C. P. Tolleson were high. The hostess served a salad and coffee.

SHOVER SPRINGS 4-H CLUB MEETS

A guest from Costa Rica, Luis Castillo, showed colored films of his homeland to members of the Shover Springs 4-H Club at their meeting on Oct. 17. These were enjoyed by the club and a large number of other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Autrey Wilson, Carolyn Jones, Dennis Langston, Mrs. Homer Poindexter, David Poindexter, Mrs. E. O. Bright, Dennis Arrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Skinner.

Club president Lanette Arrington called the meeting to order, and Sue Dillon led the group in singing "America," accompanied by Mrs. Homer Poindexter at the piano. William Dillon offered prayer, and the pledges to the flags were led by Sue Dillon and Sherry Bright. When the roll was called, 10 members answered. Sherry Bright performed the secretarial duties. During a business meeting, club members discussed their record books and made plans for a hayride and weller roast on Oct. 27. After the president gave the devotion, Steve Skinner and Paula Poindexter presented the Challenge. William Dillon gave a forestry demonstration, and Paul Poindexter showed how to make a paper weight.

For refreshments the Arringtons served cookies and punch.

Elizabeth Blackwell, who graduated with highest honors from Geneva College in 1894, was the first woman physician to get her diploma in the United States.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowden, Shreveport; Mrs. Lucille Robinson, Baytown, Tex.; and Miss Irma Morgan, Nashville, visited in Hope on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny McKee, Houston, were weekend guests of Mrs. Jewel Moore.

Mrs. Rose Marie Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. spent the weekend with Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin of Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Smith and daughter, Jennifer, spent the weekend with their daughter, Elizabeth, in Bernie, Missouri. Elizabeth teaches Home Economics at Bernie High School.

Mrs. Newt Bundy from Stephens was the guest of Mrs. Leon Bundy Sunday.

Hope Career Club members heard Ray Lawrence discuss "Choosing a Career and Making it a Success", at their October meeting at the Court room at the City Hall, Thursday night.

The Hope Career Club was organized by the Hope Business and Professional Women's Club in February 1966, and they now have a membership of forty senior high school girls.

The group elects their own officers, prepares programs, conducts meetings and selects projects. The Career Club meets the Third Thursday night of each month at 6:30 with B&PW advisor, Mrs. Virginia Hosmer.

Newly elected officers are: Jeanne Pruden, President; Betty Gaines, 1st Vice President; Nellie Churchwell, 2nd Vice President; Bitsy Morris, Recording Secretary; Gail Hartsfield, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Nell Williams, Treasurer; Carol Anthony, Parliamentarian; Jenny Tolleson, Program Chairman; Daria James, Reporter.

Heart Leaders Suffers Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former president of the American Heart Association who suffered a coronary himself four months ago says he is a lot wiser and has "come to terms with the inevitability of an aging carcass."

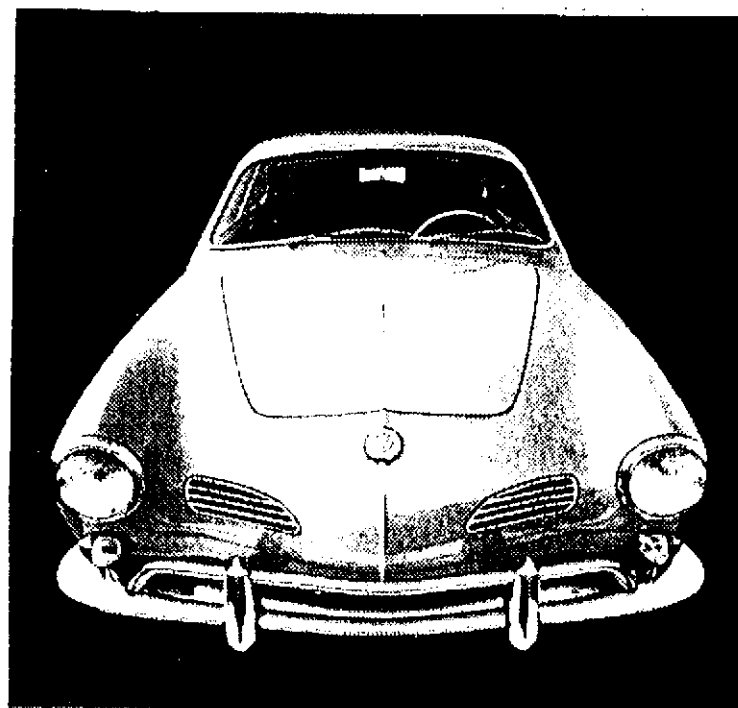

"I have no driving desire to compete with everyone else in the world anymore," said Dr. Irvine S. Page, 66, of Cleveland, in an address Wednesday to the American Heart Association 40th annual meeting. Living now at a more gentle pace, Page said he drinks only one cup of coffee a day, does callisthenics regularly and walks instead of taking taxis. He has a wiry figure and watches his weight closely. Dr. Page believes that for most Americans the problems of heart disease begin with the problems of the over abundant life.

"We eat too much. We eat the wrong foods. We ride cars too much, and we live too hard," he said.

So. Cal Wins, Alabama and Purdue Lose

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
O. J. flowed again, the Beavers were more than just eager and the Tide went out.
That was the story Saturday as O. J. Simpson led Southern California, the nation's No. 1 major college football team, to a 23-6 victory over Washington; the Oregon State Beavers upset second-ranked Purdue 22-14, and Alabama's sixth-ranked Crimson Tide bowed to seventh-ranked Tennessee 24-13.

The sensational Simpson, nicknamed Orange Juice, ran for 242 yards and two touchdowns and passed for another TD as Southern Cal built its record to 6-0 with the Pacific-8 triumph.

Simpson got the Trojans, who were plagued by four fumbles and an interception rolling with an 86-yard scoring dash in the first period, ran 10 yards for another TD in the fourth and then passed 17 yards for the final touchdown.

The Beavers fell behind 14-10 against Purdue before breaking loose for 12 points on Bill Enyard's four-yard TD run and a pair of field goals by Mike Haggard.

The Oregon State defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes in thwarting Purdue's bid for its 10th straight victory. The Beavers now are 4-1.

Third-string quarterback Bubba Wyche guided the Tennessee offense and the Volunteers' defense picked off five Kenny Stabler's passes in sending Alabama to its first defeat in 26 games.

One of the interceptions resulted in a Tennessee touchdown as Al Dorsey raced 31 yards. Tennessee now is 3-1 and Alabama is 3-1-1.

All of the other Top Ten teams won.

Gary Beban rallied third-ranked UCLA, 6-0, from a 10-7 deficit with touchdown runs of 11 and four yards as the Bruins beat stubborn Stanford 21-6.

Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a Frank Patrick pass, ran 17 yards and then lateraled to Mike Veeder, who continued 45 more to score as No. 4 Colorado, 5-0, snapped a 7-7 tie and went on to edge Nebraska 21-16 in a key Big Eight Conference game. Jeff Raymond got the clinching TD for Colorado when he returned an interception 76 yards.

No. 5 North Carolina State, 6-0, got three field goals from Gerald Warren and a 76-yard TD punt return from Fred Coombs in beating Wake Forest 24-7 in a night game.

Georgia, No. 8, breezed to its fourth victory against one loss, blasting Virginia Military Institute 56-6. Ronnie Jenkins and Brad Johnson each scored twice for the Bulldogs, who held VMI to minus 49 yards rushing.

With the talented Warren McVea on the bench with injuries, Don Bean took over and scored on a 65-yard punt return and a nine-yard run in leading ninth-ranked Houston, 4-1 to a 43-6 trouncing of Mississippi State.

Tenth-ranked Wyoming, 6-0, fell behind when Wichita State scored on a 55-yard pass on the first play from scrimmage, but the Cowboys roared back for a 30-7 victory as quarterback Paul Toscano ran for one TD and passed for another.

In other big games, Notre Dame drubbed Illinois 47-7, Michigan State went down before Minnesota 21-0, unbeaten Indiana won its fifth by topping Michigan 27-20.

record to 5-1 behind Daryle La-monica's four scoring passes that carried them to a 48-14 rout

over Boston and set up a clash against San Diego next Sunday.

The league's defending chamions, Kansas City, fell further behind when Touston upset them 24-19, while the New York

Jets continued to roll along as the Eastern Division leader with a 34-14 triumph over Miami.

In the National League, Green

Bay swamped the New York

Giants 48-21, Baltimore and

Minnesota tied 20-20 as did Los Angeles and Washington 28-28.

St. Louis trounced Philadelphia

48-14, Detroit stopped Atlanta

24-3, Cleveland halted Chicago

24-0, San Francisco beat New Orleans 24-13 and Dallas nudged

Pittsburgh 24-21.

Hadl, troubled by interruptions during his six-year AFL career, was the man of the hour for the Chargers. He shook off two thefts on his first three tosses against the Broncos to snap a 14-14 deadlock with scoring passes of 66 yards to Dick Post, five yards to Willie Frazier and 67 yards to Lance Alworth.

"I don't worry anymore about

Hadl," Gillman said. "He can have a shaky start and still come back with a great game.

He knows and I know that he's not going to have a bad game."

While Hadl was pulling out the game for San Diego, a gal who said her name was Beverly

Hutchison of Colorado was the woman of the hour.

She came out of the east stands, vaulted a three-foot-high fence and swiped the football

just as the Denver center moved over it. Stunned officials tried to get it back, and then ushers and police officers pleaded in vain after she returned to the stands.

Oakland, keeping it a man's game, handed Lamonica the ball and he responded by throwing one TD pass and setting up two field goals for a 20-0 halftime lead. When the Patriots closed to 20-7, he demolished

them with three more payoff tosses, and then expressed dissatisfaction.

"I'd rather be lucky than good," said Houston Coach Walley Lemm. "We just got the early breaks and that did it for us."

He was talking about the 24-3 lead the Oilers grabbed in the first half on Zeke Moore's 92-yard scoring kickoff return, Jim

Norton's 23-yard TD return of an intercepted screen pass and

Larry Carwell's 33-yard punt

Russia and U.S. Top Olympics

By STRATFORD C. JONES
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's Pre-Olympic Games entered their second week today with Russia the front-runner in gold medal standings, but with the United States' strongest event yet to come.

The United States awaited its day in swimming, which opens Wednesday, but will have to go some in that and other competition to out-distance Russia, which had 19 golds to the Americans' six.

Diving, which started Sunday and continues Tuesday, enabled the Russians to add a gold and silver in the women's three-meter event. Italy picked up a gold in the men's three-meter dive, and the United States a silver on performances by Franco Cagnotto and Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz., respectively. Russell had 168.76 points and Cagnotto 174.23.

Belgium's distance specialist Gaston Reelants brought his and his country's gold total to two when he won the 25.5 miles marathon Sunday. He ran it in 2 hours, 19 minutes, 34.4 seconds.

trilled by Kenji Kimihara and Akio Usami, who brought Japan a silver and a bronze.

Italian cyclist Cipriano Chemello won a gold in the 4,000-meter individual pursuit, while the silver went to Colombia's Martin Rodriguez and the bronze to Mexico's Radames Trevino.

Patty Simms of Arcadia, Calif., La. Miki King, USAF, of Pontiac, Mich., and Cynthia Potter of Houston were fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively, in the women's diving. Two Russians were 1-2.

At Acapulco, J. McNamara of the United States won the 5.5 meter class sailing.

Turkey Shoot at Airport on Nov. 5

The Hempstead Skeet Club will hold a Turkey Shoot at the Municipal Airport Sunday, Nov. 5, beginning at 1:00 p.m. All sorts of shooting events are scheduled, including still targets and various clay pigeon games.

This Shoot is being set up to appeal to all hunters and sportsmen. The events will not be planned to appeal to the Skeet and Trap shooter only. Most clay target events will be 3 and 10 targets only with shooting positions planned to simulate actual hunting conditions as much as possible. There will be "covey rise" shooting, "pass" shooting, doubles and singles, and red target shooting, where a shooter wins a prize by breaking a colored target that might come out of the trap at any time.

The Club held a similar shoot last November with all prizes being furnished by Hope merchants. This shoot was so successful that the Club planned another for this Fall so that local hunters can sharpen up for the coming hunting seasons.

If you're a hunter, plan to attend this shoot. The Club will have some events that will appeal to your shooting taste. The Club promises a good time to all.

Rice Tops Southwest Conference

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Writer

The Southwest Conference football race moves into the stretch drive this week, and the possibilities are intriguing.

Seven of the eight members still are in the championship fight, and about half of them could be leading or sharing the lead when the smoke clears Saturday night.

Rice, which wasn't supposed to be in contention at all, tops the race and also has the best season record—3-1.

Texas, which wasn't supposed to lose to anybody but fell to Texas Tech and got itself in a position of having to fight back, makes what could be its last stand against Rice in the big battle of the week.

Texas could take over or share the lead by beating Rice and a series of other events not firmly predictable came about.

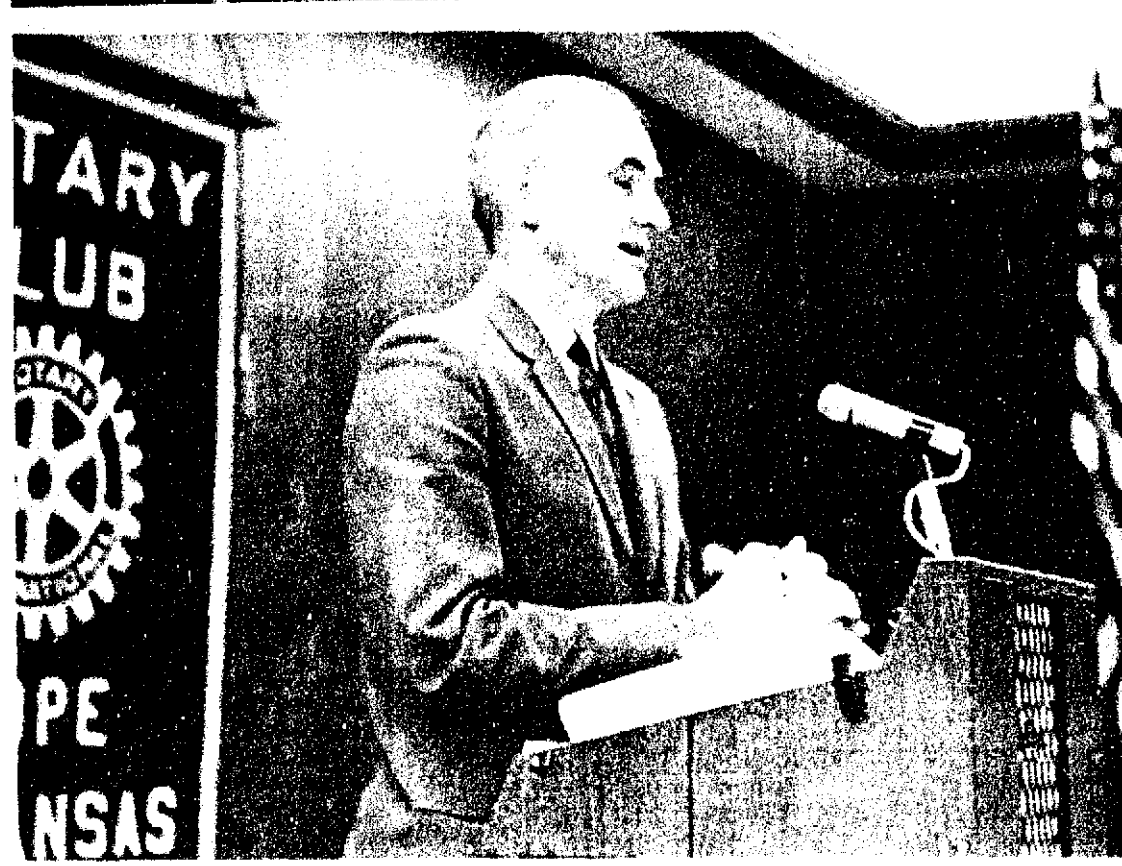

Even Baylor, which has played only one game and tied that, might shoot into the lead. A tie counts a half-game won and half lost.

Rice was jolted by the loss of its leading ground gainer, L. V. Benningfield, who got torn ligaments in the 14-10 victory over Southern Methodist, and is out for the season. Also, defensive end George Alexander will miss the game against Texas at Austin Saturday night because of a knee injury.

This brought some gloomy words from Rice but, if it turns out like the first big blow Rice suffered this season, the Owls will be better than ever. They lost Robby Shelton, the heart of the offense, in the game with Louisiana State, then proceeded to win the next three.

Texas beat Arkansas 21-12 last week to stay in the title race

Rotary Hears City Health Plans

JEWELL MAY (TOP) AND DR. LYNN HARRIS

In a continuation of programs dealing with branches of the city government, the Hope Rotary Club heard from Dr. Lynn Harris, city health officer; and Jewel May, head of the City Sanitation Department, Friday at a luncheon meeting in the Town and Country.

Dr. Emmett Thompson arranged for the guest speakers and introduced them. Dr. Harris warned his listeners of such infections as botulism and "staph," and he praised the city for its good work in minimizing the causes for a number of illnesses.

A great deal of credit goes to the City Sanitation Department, and Jewel May explained that their biggest job was the disposal of trash and garbage. With four trucks and a crew of 12 men the residential areas are serviced twice a week and the business district six days a week, all for a comparatively small fee. We have a minimum of rats in our city, and mosquitoes are kept under control with the use of chemicals, he told the group.

In observance of Business Women's Week, the B&PW Club Collect was repeated as the opening prayer at the luncheon, and Mrs. Norma Jean Delaney told about the local club of B&PW at the conclusion of the planned program.

President Clyde Fouse welcomed the guests which included two visiting Rotarians, Gene Capleman of Winter Garden, Fla., and Bruce McRae of Denver, Colo., and Hope High School Principal Joe Barendine. In addition to Mrs. Delaney, other B&PW members at the luncheon were Miss Opal Daniel, Mrs. Evva Reynerson, and Miss Mary Anita Laseter.

Blocked Kick and 4th Down Try Crucial

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles pointed to a fourth down try that failed and a blocked punt Sunday as the turning points in the Razorbacks' 21-12 loss to Texas and then took complete blame for one of the plays.

Both of the plays Broyles referred to led to Texas touchdowns.

The blocked punt occurred in the second quarter and gave Texas the ball on Arkansas' one. The Longhorns got their first touchdown from that point. The fourth down situation arose in the third period.

The Razorbacks were on the Texas 48 and were trailing 7-0. David Dickey carried over right guard and failed to make the first down.

"Frank Broyles made the wrong decision," Broyles said Sunday. "I ought to have better than that. I used to know better. We got away from the pattern that we've been using for quite a while."

The defense performed admirably under extreme heat and constant pressure, and Broyles said so.

Texas had an average of 52 yards to go in the 14 possessions it attempted to move the ball. The Longhorns got the ball at the Arkansas 36, 39, 39, 47, 43 and 50. Arkansas had an average of 70 yards to go.

DiMaggio to Run Oakland Ball Club

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, one of baseball's all-time greats, is back in the game as executive vice president of the new Oakland Athletics.

DiMaggio signed a two-year contract to run the club for Charles O. Finley, the insurance tycoon who last week succeeded in getting his American League franchise shifted from Kansas City to Oakland.

"I'm looking forward to working with Joe DiMaggio, one of the greatest names in the history of baseball," Finley said Sunday. "I'm tremendously pleased Joe is joining the Athletics. His knowledge of the game and reputation will be a great help to our young players."

Finley said DiMaggio, 52-year-old native of San Francisco, will consult and advise on personnel, player transactions, community relations and promotions.

Oswald: "There was a long period in contract bidding when certain jumps to game were regarded as strong slam invitations. I am glad to see that we are getting away from that. It seems rather obvious that the way to approach a slam is slowly but surely—not helter-skelter."

Jim: "This is possible because we have added a lot of gadgets."

Oswald: "When I held today's South hand with the late Louis Watson back in 1932, we had no trouble bidding the slam. He didn't bid four clubs, and I didn't bid four no-trump. This was too early even for Blackwood. I did respond one spade. He raised me to four, and I bid six. West opened the king of clubs and held the first trick. The rest was easy."

Jim: "The bidding in the box shows how we would handle the same hand today. North's jump to four clubs is a fragment bid designed to show enough to bid the spade game with a singleton club as part of the strength."

Oswald: "South's four no-trump is of course Blackwood. He can use it safely because he isn't worried about his worthless doubleton in clubs. North has taken care of that problem by means of his fragment bid."

Jim: "Couldn't you have been more scientific back then and invited the slam by means of a five heart bid?"

Oswald: "I suppose so, but we were not science-minded in those days. The theory was that if we leaped into a slam, we might not get the best defense. Thus, if North held two clubs and one heart, my six spade bid might be met by some lead other than a club whereupon I would have stolen the slam."

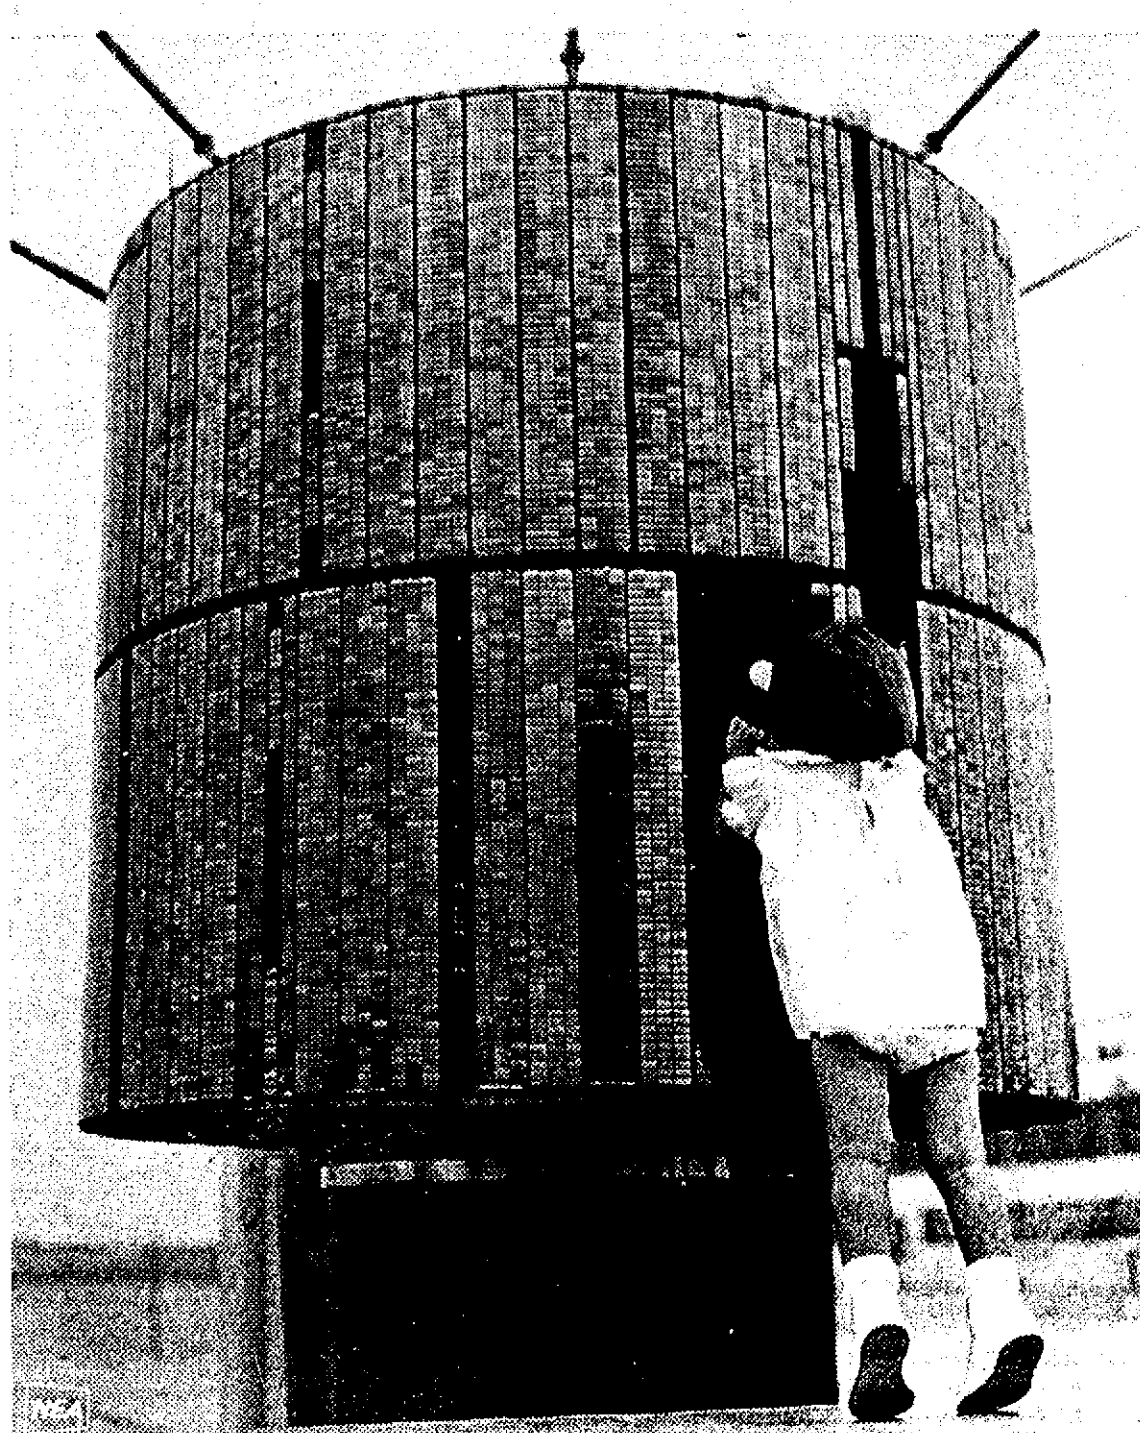

An Agriculture Department report said cattle feeding has been an uncertain activity in recent years. In the 1962-63 season, returns for a 1,050-pound choice steer fell $13.36 short of costs. The deficit averaged $13.65 the following year, but in the 1964-65 season there was an average profit of $5.45. This profit declined to $25.72 in 1965-66 before tumbling to a 42-cent loss during 1966-67.

The agricultural press has been filled this year with reports and discussions of what is termed unrest in the livestock industry. Where the cattle industry used to experience the economically bad feeding year in seven, it now has one in about every three years.

Dr. Harold F. Brethner, University of Missouri agricultural economist, says that years ago bad times in the cattle business were caused mainly by bad weather or a business recession.

A high degree of production control is bound to come.

SHUTTERBUG Maria Wrzesinski, 2, takes a tiptoe peek at the "birdie" in this engineering prototype of an ATS (Applications Technology Satellite), scheduled to be launched Nov. 7 at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center. The satellite will be parked 22,300 miles above the mouth of the Amazon River, where the color camera will photograph cloud cover for weather studies.

Shopper and Farmer Are Grumbling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The housewife's complaints about meat prices are matched by grumblings over the same thing from down on the farm.

The family shopper insists meats cost too much, so as a consequence she often turns to chicken, fish and the like.

But the livestockman says prices are too low for meat animals and he is having trouble keeping his head above economic waters.

There is room for debate, but many of the dollars-and-cents facts are on the side of the livestock farmer.

Furthermore, it appears certain for the long pull that meat prices will tend to be a little higher. Otherwise, there is apt to be an inadequate supply.

How high are meat prices? The Agriculture Department reports choice grade beef sold nationally at an average retail price of 83 cents a pound during the early summer. This compared with 85.5 cents a year earlier and with 76.1 cents nor the 1957-59 average.

Pork sold at an average retail price of 66.1 cents a pound last summer compared with 72.4 cents a year earlier and a 1957-59 average of 69.5 cents, said the department.

This year's prices are discouraging production of hogs and beef cattle. The number of beef cattle on farms is declining for the third consecutive year. This year's calf crop was down one per cent from last year and farmers cut down on the number of pigs raised.

If the livestockmen were making big money producing beef cattle and hogs, they would not be likely to curtail their operations. Government reports show, however, that many cattle feeders did not get enough from the sale last winter of quality fattened cattle to cover costs.

Cattle prices have eased upward a little in recent weeks, but not sufficiently to encourage any sizable increase in production.

An Agriculture Department report said cattle feeding has been an uncertain activity in recent years. In the 1962-63 season, returns for a 1,050-pound choice steer fell $13.36 short of costs. The deficit averaged $13.65 the following year, but in the 1964-65 season there was an average profit of $5.45. This profit declined to $25.72 in 1965-66 before tumbling to a 42-cent loss during 1966-67.

The agricultural press has been filled this year with reports and discussions of what is termed unrest in the livestock industry. Where the cattle industry used to experience the economically bad feeding year in seven, it now has one in about every three years.

Dr. Harold F. Brethner, University of Missouri agricultural economist, says that years ago bad times in the cattle business were caused mainly by bad weather or a business recession.

A high degree of production control is bound to come.

THE WELL CHILD® True Tongue-tie Actually a Rarity

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

In earlier centuries in Europe most babies were thought to be tongue-tied at birth and many midwives routinely severed the "bridle" or chord under the tongue with their fingernails. Things took a turn for the better in 1776 when the court physician in Sweden announced that in all his years of practice he had never seen an infant that was truly tongue-tied. He had, however, seen several who had choked to death when, after the chord had been snipped, the unfortunate infant had swallowed his tongue.

True tongue-tie occurs in only about one in 3,000 infants. Many parents still ask their doctor to snip the chord of their infants and blame their child's slowness to learn to talk on tongue-tie. In many cases, as the child uses his tongue for speaking, the supposed tongue-tie corrects itself automatically.

To test whether your baby is tongue-tied, all you need to do is take a dry cotton-tipped applicator and touch the junction of the skin and red mucous of his lower lip and the two corners of his mouth. He will try to lick it away and, if he succeeds in touching the cotton with his tongue, he is not tongue-tied.

An older child who is tongue-tied has difficulty making the sounds "d," "n" and "t," the only sounds that require him to touch the roof of his mouth with his tongue. He may also have trouble learning to play a wind instrument. If true tongue-tie exists, it should be corrected but this does not insure proper pronunciation. A course of speech therapy may be required.

In some cases the real trouble is a paralysis of the nerves that control the tongue. If this is the cause an operation will not benefit the child. If your child does need an operation to free his tongue, it should not be done before his fourth birthday. A simple snipping of the cord is not recommended because this operation is frequently followed by a recurrence of the tongue-tie. A plastic operation is required to prevent the cord surfaces from growing together again.

Q—My son, 6, has geographic tongue. The doctor says there is nothing to do for it.

A—Geographic tongue is a benign condition that changes every three years.

Dr. Harold F. Brethner, University of Missouri agricultural economist, says that years ago bad times in the cattle business were caused mainly by bad weather or a business recession.

A high degree of production control is bound to come.

Damascus Likely Horse of the Year

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Damascus, the latest darling of the thoroughbred set, returns to the races this week and hopes to cement his claim to Horse of the Year honors.

The 3-year-old colt, owned by Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft, goes to the post in the $100,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Saturday. It will be his first start since his impressive 10-length victory over Buckpasser and Dr. Fager in the Woodward Stakes several weeks ago.

Sharing the weekend spotlight will be Ogden Phipps' unbeaten 2-year-old filly, Queen Of The State, who will try for her eighth straight victory in the $100,000 guaranteed Selma Stakes at Laurel.

Damascus appearance in the two mile gold cup will be his last before he will try to beat the foreign invaders in the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel Nov. 11.

Damascus, a son of Sword Dancer, will be after his 12th victory in 15 starts this year when he goes in the Gold Cup. The winner of the Preakness, Belmont Stakes, American Derby, Travers and Woodward stakes never has been out of the money and has earned $723,651.

One of his rivals in the Gold Cup may be Successor, who showed some of his 1966 form in winning the Lawrence Realization at Aqueduct last week. Other possible starters in the Gold Cup include Gentleman James, Exceedingly and Ring Twice.

Ring Twice finished last in the $116,100 Man O'War Stakes over the grass at Aqueduct last Saturday. Ruffled Feathers, a 40-1 long shot from the Tartan Stable, won it by a head over Fort Marcy. Handsome Boy was third and Assagal, the favorite and last year's grass course Horse of the Year, fourth.

Dr. Fager, Damascus' main rival for 3-year-old honors, won the $121,360 Hawthorne Gold Cup in Chicago and gave William Mc Knight, master of Tartan Stable, a rare double worth $147,825 coupled with Ruffled Feathers' first money.

Dr. Fager, the $2.60 favorite, beat Whisper Jet by 2 1/2 lengths, then survived a claim of foul by jockey Craig Peret against Braulio Baeza, who rode Dr. Fager.

Alex H. WashburnColor in Ozarks
Disappointing;
War Eagle Fair

L Carter Johnson and your editor returned home Sunday night from a three-day swing of 727 miles through the Arkansas and Missouri Ozarks and regrettably report that this year's Autumn color show is not so good.

There hasn't been enough frost so far to bring colors to their peak, but actually there isn't going to be any peak this year. Nature's annual show makes a motor trip worth while for the human eye but pictures will be disappointing — the hues are rusty, lacking the solid flash and flame of hardwood foliage in a normal season.

Our main target on the trip was to revisit the Ozarks Arts & Crafts Fair at War Eagle, which we did last Saturday, photographing several of the exhibits in 4x5 Ektachrome. We spent Friday and Saturday nights at the Crescent Hotel in Eureka Springs, and Saturday afternoon at War Eagle. There we met Ernie Deane of the University of Arkansas News Bureau, and the former Jeanne Lowe of Hope and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Yancy Reynolds of Camden.

It was Ernie Deane who explained to me the causes behind the universal report that this year's Autumn color show is below par. An abnormal Summer, with early drouth and late rains, disturbed the maple trees and caused them to shed much of their leaves while still green before the first frost. So when frost did come there wasn't enough foliage left to put gold into the Autumn landscape. This explanation backed up my personal impression of Autumn's failure — there were individual trees with beauty but the solid blasts of color you expect of the Ozarks at this time of year were definitely missing.

The crowd at the War Eagle Fair was fantastic, Saturday this year exceeding Sunday's record of last year. We were more than an hour covering the mile-and-a-half gravel road south from State Highway 12 to War Eagle, because of the pileup of cars in the Fair's parking lots.

From Eureka Springs Sunday noon we started home by excursioning north into southern Missouri, seeing Table Rock Lake, Lake Taneycomo, lunching at Branson, and driving through Hollister on U.S. Highway 65 to Harrison, then on State No. 7 to Hot Springs — and home. But camera or no camera, it's a fine tour — something everyone should take at this time of year just to make you realize how wonderful is the region in which we live.

Compulsory School Rule Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the objection of three justices, the Supreme Court turned down today an Amish farmer's claim that Kansas' compulsory school attendance violates constitutional religious freedom.

The court said in a brief ruling that the appeal, filed for Lefroy Garber of Yoder, Kan., by the American Civil Liberties Union, had been dismissed "for want of jurisdiction." No other explanation was given.

The action left standing a ruling by the Kansas Supreme Court last Nov. 5 that the law is constitutional. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas dissented, saying the high court should have taken the case.

Garber and the ACLU thus failed by one vote to get a hearing in the Supreme Court. The vote of at least four justices is required.

Garber was convicted and fined $5 for refusing to send his daughter Sharon to a public high school or a recognized private or parochial school. The girl had attended a public primary school.

The Kansas law requires attendance until the age of 16 at a public, private or parochial school "taught by a competent instructor." Garber enrolled his daughter, then 14, at a vocational school maintained by the Amish at Yoder.

Phasing Out of Domestic Programs

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — During the recent congressional thunder about government spending and how it might be controlled, legislation with interesting possibilities—and important connections—has been slumbering unnoticed.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., introduced it June 5 after he expressed concern in a speech about government continuing to expand by adding new programs without studying all its undertakings to determine whether some might now be unproductive, outmoded or otherwise ripe for phasing out.

The bill would create a commission of 12 private citizens to "make a full and complete study and evaluation of existing federal programs and activities, old and new, and of projected expansions." It would be directed to report on the effectiveness of each program in terms of costs, whether each should be continued and which should have priority in assignment of federal funds.

Four members would be appointed each by the President, the speaker of the House and the president pro-tempore of the Senate.

While the commission in some ways would resemble the Hoover commissions that studied the organization of government and made recommendations for improvements, there would be a significant difference. Unlike the Hoover commissions, the proposed new one would contain no officials, from either the legislative or executive branches.

Mills' speech and introduction of the bill should have been notice to the administration that Mills, while chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, was thinking more and more in terms of holding down spending and the general growth of government.

Yet the administration showed every evidence of surprise nearly four months later when Mills, as his committee pigeonholed the tax increase bill, said the price for a tax raise was not only an immediate spending cut but a hold-down on spending programs later.

The commission measure attracted comparatively little attention, but several members of the House and Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, introduced identical or similar measures.

Lady Boasts She Eats No More Than a Bird; But How Big a Bird?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Diet-conscious Americans now eat 177 eggs each a year for breakfast, which pleases those doctors who think most of us need more protein.

Some women of delicate appetite say they eat no more than a bird. They usually don't say what bird they have in mind, but it couldn't be a baby robin. Shortly after being hatched, those tiny birds need 14 feet of earthworms a day to satisfy their hunger.

Kills 6 and Wounds 7 in Car Pool Row

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — A berserk paper mill employee, apparently upset over a dispute with members of his car pool, his boss and a neighbor, killed six of them today in a sudden and deadly accurate shooting spree.

Seven others were wounded, three critically.

State Police Capt. John Gray said the alleged gunman, Leo Held, 39, a lab technician at the Hammernill Paper Co., had amassed an arsenal of guns before he was seized by police in his nearby Loganton home. Officers said the shootings occurred, without warning, shortly before 8 a.m. after Held entered the Hammernill plant located on the edge of this semi-industrial farm community in central Pennsylvania.

Held had been driven to his job by Mrs. Margaret Ramm, a Loganton neighbor, who worked at the Piper Aircraft Co., a mile from the paper mill. The state police captain said a violent quarrel developed en route.

Inside the Hammernill building Held whipped out a gun, said Gray, and started firing, aiming apparently only at those who were in his car pool and those who were his immediate bosses. He killed five and wounded four. After that he ran out to the company parking lot, took a station wagon and drove to the Piper plant.

There he fired at Mrs. Ramm, wounding her.

Gray said Held then drove back to Loganton, went to the home of a neighbor, Donald Quiggle, and shot him dead. He also wounded Quiggle's wife and another person and reportedly took several guns before heading for his own home. He was captured about 95 minutes after the first shots were fired.

Anti-War Rally Is Broken Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals hauled a last-stand group of Vietnam war protesters from Pentagon grounds early today, ending a sometimes-violent weekend rally and march on the troop-surrounded military nerve center of the nation.

Sponsors hailed the demonstration as the birth of a new peace movement.

Thousands participated. Hundreds were arrested. Dozens were injured. And a few got inside the huge five-sided building.

Dave Dellinger, chief organizer of the march, declared those who oppose the war now have shifted "from simple dissent to resistance."

On a plaza-like area just outside the Pentagon's main entrance a hard-core band of dissenters—some bearded, some shaggy haired, some wearing trinkets of the hippie cult, some rather normal college types—resisted to the last.

At midnight Sunday, when their permit to stage a "nonviolent" demonstration expired, marshals armed with night sticks and pistols and aided by military police carried the protesters to Army vans. The Defense Department said 208 were hauled to a federal detention center at Occoquan, Va., where most of the 439 persons arrested earlier had been taken.

As the midnight deadline approached, an Army colonel sealed in a jeep repeatedly broadcast a warning that those "who do not leave voluntarily by midnight will be arrested."

Officials estimated there were 2,000 troops on hand for the cleanup arrests. Before the operation Army Chief of Staff, Harold K. Johnson personally conferred with unit commanders.

After the last demonstrator departed, there was a moment of silence and then a wave of cheering from the troops. The marshals then applauded the soldiers.

State Court Upholds Land for School

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today a Circuit Court apportionment that gave parts of the territory of the Carroll County School District No. 1 to the Berryville and Green Forest School Districts.

The Carroll County Board of Education had appealed the ruling after the lower court failed to uphold the board's July 1, 1966 order dissolving the Carroll County district and annexing the west half to the Berryville district and the remainder to the Green Forest District.

Circuit Court in Carroll County gave 15 per cent of the district to Green Forest and the remainder to Berryville.

The high court noted that petitions filed with the board by residents in the Carroll County district showed that 85 per cent wanted to be annexed to Berryville.

Justice John A. Fogleman dissented.

In another case, the high court affirmed Pulaski Chancery Court in awarding Lawrence and Faye Fisher $161,000 for property at 114 East Markham Street in Little Rock condemned by the City Housing Authority.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Newly developed Hurricane Heidi offered only a threat to ships at sea as it moved away from land far out in the Atlantic today, the National Hurricane Center at Miami reported.

The 6 a.m. EDT advisory said Heidi was centered near Latitude 33.0 north, Longitude 60.5 west, or about 250 miles east-northeast of Bermuda and 1,600 miles east-northeast of Miami.

Ford Strike Nears End as Union Votes

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the United Auto Workers today prepared for a ratification vote on a new contract with the Ford Motor Co., which could cost Ford close to a billion dollars in the next three years.

Ford executives made plans to get cars rolling off assembly lines if the strike, now in its 47th day and longest in the company's history, ends some time this week.

The union's Ford Council meets tonight and ratification votes by members are planned for Tuesday and Wednesday in 25 states.

The council, made up of key officials in Ford locals, meets again at 8 p.m. Wednesday, to pass on the vote.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said he expected his men to be returning to work by Thursday with more expected Friday. Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said employees could be back on the job Wednesday "at the earliest."

Denise and Reuther headed the opposing bargaining teams in 13 days of intensive negotiations before the tract was agreed on early Sunday.

Reuther said the union's gains represent "our slice of the increase in productivity and cannot possibly form the basis for increasing prices."

The nation's four major domestic automakers have all increased prices for 1968-model cars and have indicated the prices could be changed depending on the cost of new contracts with the UAW.

Denise declined to answer specifically when asked whether Ford would increase car prices, saying only, "One cannot ignore cost when pricing one's product."

Ford said the new contract will raise wages 4 1/2% to 9 1/2% cents an hour over its three-year span. The union estimates that its 20,000 skilled tradesmen at Ford will average $1.02 more hourly.

At the rate of $1 an hour increase in wages, fringe benefits and premium pay, the new contract would cost Ford $2,000 more per year for each of its 160,000 workers, thus close to a billion dollars in the three years of the contract.

Roll Calls in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — How Arkansas members of Congress voted on recent roll calls:

On Bow, R-Ohio, motion, rejected 124-268, to refuse to accept Senate additions to a $1.5 billion appropriation bill for Department of Transportation. For the motion — Gathings, Hamerschmidt, Mills, Pryor.

On Whitten, D-Miss., amendment, adopted 239-164, to limit spending this fiscal year to last year's level with an absolute ceiling of $131.5 billion: For the amendment — Gathings, Hamerschmidt, Mills, Pryor.

On passage, 253-143, of emergency financing bill as amended: For passage — Gathings, Hamerschmidt, Mills, Pryor.

On passage, 336-20, of a bill fixing criminal penalties for creating disturbances in or around the Capitol: For passage — Gathings, Hamerschmidt, Mills. Not voting — Pryor.

U.S. Attorney Pick Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says that seven or eight attorneys have applied for the job of U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of Arkansas but that he and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., hadn't given serious consideration to selecting anyone for the job.

McClellan said the selection may not be made until after the first of the year. President Johnson will nominate someone for the $20,000 a year job on the basis of a recommendation from McClellan and Fulbright.

Congress Refuses to Take Medicine It Offers White House

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The current congressional economy wave is lapping at the doors of most federal agencies but shows little sign of threatening the island of prosperity Congress has created on Capitol Hill.

The House voted last week to clamp drastic restrictions on spending by executive department agencies. But the same day it crushed a move to trim 5 per cent from its own payroll—or, as Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., said, "to take the same medicine it wants to administer to other government agencies."

Sikes' amendment was aimed at a House payroll that has skyrocketed 84 per cent in the past six years and now is nearing $50 million annually. Upwards of 500 employees of House or Senate are paid $20,000 or more a year, a survey shows.

Sikes' colleagues listened reluctantly to his contention that the House cannot "in good grace exempt itself from the restrictions on spending that we proposed for others." Then it rejected his amendment 134 to 86.

A week earlier, the House shouted down a move by Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., to put "some restraint on runaway salaries" by exempting congressional employees from a 4.5 per cent federal pay raise. That same day, though, other House members used nearly the same argument to exclude federal anti-poverty workers from the pay raise bill.

Another area unlikely to suffer major cuts are public works projects, commonly called the "pork barrel." The bill sending

Sea Sinking Threatens Mideast War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel's angry mood hardened in bitter official statements today and Egyptian officials said they expect an attack "anytime" to avenge Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer in what may have been one of warfare's first sea-to-sea missile raids.

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol called the sinking of the destroyer Eliah Saturday "an act of war in open sea" and said "this despicable attack was launched without any cause." Egypt's Cabinet asserted the warship was in its territorial waters when missiles shattered it. The exchange came as Soviet Deputy Defense Minister Marshal Matvei Zakharov arrived in Cairo unannounced and President Gamal Abdel Nasser called his ministers together to discuss what the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported were "the eventualities of the situation."

The purpose of Zakharov's mission was not disclosed but the commander of Israel's navy said he believed "Soviet missiles fired from Soviet ships supplied to the Egyptian navy" sank the Eliah, killing 15 of her crew 48 more and leaving 36 unaccounted for.

Former Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, speaking at his 81st birthday party, said the missiles were notified by Egyptians. He would not name, however, those persons he said launched them.

In Cairo, an Egyptian official told The Associated Press: "We expect renewed Israeli aggression anytime. Our armed forces are constantly on alert."

Eshkol reflected the angry mood of his countrymen in a broadcast to the nation. "It was a deliberate and unprovoked attack," he said. "The blood of our sailors, like the blood of our civilians and soldiers, will not be shed wantonly."

It was disclosed meanwhile that as late as Friday Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, hero of Israel's three victorious wars against the Arabs, had said the Suez Canal area is "likely to become once again the spark which touches off war."

Israeli and Egyptian troops face each other across the canal and have exchanged fire sporadically since the June 5-10 war.

Dayan warned that a new conflict would involve the major powers and said the Soviet Union's speedy rearmament of Egypt was encouraging its aggressiveness.

Extra Audit Expense Is Challenged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Joint Auditing Committee wants to know why the state was required to pay an accounting firm $20,345 in out-of-pocket expenses in addition to the firm's $108,360 fee for seven months of consultant services.

State Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin told the committee that Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., had charged the state on a man-hour per week basis, plus out-of-pocket expenses. He said previous contracts with consultants had been on a flat-rate basis.

The committee voted at its meeting Saturday to investigate the situation.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell was hired to develop new budgeting and accounting procedures and job and pay classifications for the state Comptroller's division of the state Administration Department. It said its charge was standard.

Man Held In Dice Game Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Police said Sunday they were holding a North Little Rock man in connection with the slaying Saturday of Harvey Moore, 48, of North Little Rock.

Officers said Moore was shot in the chest with a shotgun. They said the shooting apparently resulted from an argument during a dice game.
